Earth Day

An array of engaging, thought-provoking and insightful activities formed the focal point of our learners' efforts which are deeply invested into the preservation of the planet Earth- that we identify as our home.

On Earth Day 2022, enthusiastic Goenkans did their part to transform both attitudes and actions towards Earth. With each little step, we tread towards a more mindful way of experiencing our existence on this planet and a more ethically appropriate way of treating its resources.

Kudos to our Goenkan empathths!

Penmanship Maestro Activity

Penmanship at its best!

The event was a true reflection of the finest handwriting of our learners. It gave them an opportunity to display their copperplate hands at work.

Mother's Day

"When you are looking at your mother, you are looking at the purest love you will ever know." -Charley Benetto

The students of the Junior Wing celebrated Mother's Day on 6th & 7th May 2022 to honour our dedicated mothers, who sacrifice everything in the upbringing of their children. The craft activity at school exalted the mother as a teacher, friend, philosopher, guide and emphasised upon the truth that a mother's love for her child is the pinnacle of happiness. Students of Grades I and II, along with their moms, engaged in fun activities like Tumble Tower, Dance Tango, Name on the Plate & Newspaper Dressing while the little ones from classes Nursery to Kindergarten and their mommies were entertained through myriad activities like Piercing Pasta, Sing Along Mom, Builder Buddies, Pleasure with Treasure, Soothing Touch, Handprints & Spin the Wheel.

The two day event culminated with all mothers, children and teachers enjoying together the festivities and taking back fond memories of a wonderful celebration of an extremely special day.

Camping Ninjas

"And at the end of the day, your feet should be dirty, your hair messy and your eyes sparkling."

Giggles and smiles were flowing all around and the cheer was high when the little Ninjas went camping with their mentors and peers. Our exuberant little ones from the Junior School bid a good bye to their teachers and friends in the most special way by experiencing enthralling and mesmerizing activities, games and dances, while they took part in 'Fun Unlimited with Little Ninjas'. Star Gazing, Scavenger Hunt, Camping Yoga, Fit to Sit, Tumbler game were some of the major attractions of the day. # Parental Tip

The thought of ideal parenting conceives before we have the actual baby in our arms.

Young mothers and fathers are perturbed and busy to equip themselves to become perfect parents. This starts with, which toys we should have, which books would adorn the bookshelf and umpteen such questions. It would not be wrong to say that parents are obsessed with the idea of perfect parenting. After a decade of being a parent I have realized that perfect parenting does not exist. It is very subjective. What works for your child may not work for my child. For a parenting to be perfect, you ought to have a perfect child, which for obvious reasons we cannot expect that to be. Parenting ideas come handy from experiences of our own childhood and from today's current prevalent times like living with internet, more openness among children to present their thoughts without considering the consequences and repercussions. So, all these things are a part of raising a child. At the end of the day, we need to understand our child's personality, nature, and temperament. We cannot apply the rules which we might have heard from someone as a thumb rule.

No person is perfect; everyone has strengths and weaknesses. So, let us accept and be realistic with our children as we raise them. Try to develop your own style of parenting which could be a combination of your own childhood experiences and your own intuition or wisdom. Nobody knows the algorithm of flawless parenting because it does not exist in reality. It is like a 'MRIGTRISHNA' which is inside you, and you are seeking it outside.

So, let us call it a 'flexible parenting' which makes us receptive to the latest ideas, with various possibilities and allows us to adapt to what works best for our child.

I would suggest creating your own style, including things which you consider to be right for your child's betterment. Do not look for the formula or the solution to the equation outside. God has blessed the parents with a thing called 'intuition' and the ability to judge good or bad for our kids.

Hence, Strive to raise a Happy Child, as a 'Happy child will be your perfect child'.
